

Oussama Rifahi

Board member and Executive Director 2010 - 2016 of the Arab Fund for Arts and Culture (AFAC) – Germany/Lebanon

Aerospace and Renewable Energies

Oussama Rifahi is a board member of the Arab Fund for Arts and Culture (AFAC) and its executive director 2010 - 2016.

Tourism, cultural strategies and museums

Starting his career as a geophysical engineer in West Africa, he moved on to take management roles in Aerospace and Renewable Energies in Canada & Europe.

Philanthropy and Leadership

Oussama worked on the development of tourism and culture strategies in Abu Dhabi and led feasibility studies for modern and contemporary museums around the world. Oussama is now based between Cologne, Germany and Beirut, Lebanon. He teaches philanthropy and leadership for non-profits and advises individuals, corporations, governments and private institutions on governance, strategy, communications and fundraising /development. He is involved in the launch and implementation of cultural initiatives in Europe, the MENA region and Africa.

Cultural initiatives in Europe, MENA region and Africa

