

Nomsa Mazwai

Founder #FunkItImWalking/ Soweto Theatre - South Africa

Nomsa Mazwai also known as the artist Nomisupasta is an artist, social activist and future leader of South Africa. She is a Fulbright Alumnus who graduated with her MA in International Political Economy and Development. She served as the first independent and female president of the Students Representative Council at the University of Fort Hare, alma mater of Nelson Mandela, Julius Nyerere and many other African Leaders.

She was awarded a South African Music Award for Best African Alternative for her self-titled debut album Nomisupasta. Nomi, as she is called for short, is passionate about community and is committed to creating the world we all wish we lived in.

Nomsa works tirelessly in her current job to ensure that the role that she currently plays in the public service unlocks economic opportunities for artists and on her next journey, with her NGO #FunkItImWalking, she aims to make South Africa a safe space for women and members of the LGBTQI+ community by ensuring that everyone can walk at any time of day in any condition.
